STATEMENT OF ISSUES TO BE DECIDED

1. Whether the Court should approve as fair and reasonable Lead Counsel’s application in the Actions for an award of attorneys’ fees in the amount of 30% of the Settlement Amount, plus all interest accrued thereon.
2. Whether the Court should approve Lead Counsel’s request for payment of $638,213.52 in litigation expenses and charges incurred by Lead Counsel in the Actions, plus all interest accrued thereon.
3. Whether the Court should award Lead Plaintiff California Ironworkers $2,000 pursuant to 15 U.S.C. §78u-4(a)(4) in connection with its representation of the Class.

1 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 I. INTRODUCTION

3 After years of hard-fought litigation, Lead Counsel secured a $71 million settlement for the 4 Class.<sup>1</sup> In awarding fees, courts consider several factors, the most important of which is the result 5 achieved for the Class. The all-cash Settlement represents a significant percentage of estimated 6 aggregate damages (15%), and is many times greater (on a percentage recovery basis) than the 7 median recovery percentage (1.6%) obtained in securities class action cases with similar damages.

8 As compensation for their efforts in both the Nutanix and Norton Actions, Lead Counsel 9 request that the Court award attorneys' fees of 30% of the Settlement Amount, plus 10 expenses/charges ("expenses") incurred in the prosecution of the Actions in the amount of 11 $638,213.52, plus the interest earned thereon. This request is being made in connection with 12 resolving both the Nutanix Action led by Robbins Geller Rudman & Dowd LLP as Lead Counsel 13 and the Norton Action filed by Levi & Korsinsky, LLP. The fee request is supported by Plaintiffs, 14 which include two sophisticated institutions, a fact that is afforded significant weight in the analysis, 15 see §III.B.6, infra, and it is consistent with fees awarded in comparable class action settlements in 16 this District. Lead Counsel's fee request is further supported by the extent of their efforts and the ex-
17 ante risks of the Actions. See generally Astley Decl. Lead Counsel, among other things, conducted 18 a thorough investigation, drafted several complaints, conducted the review and analysis of 570,862 19 pages of documents produced by Defendants and third parties, incorporated facts from those 20 documents and other facts into detailed amended complaints, opposed Defendants' motions to 21 dismiss and motion for judgment on the pleadings, prepared detailed mediation statements, and 22 participated in a mediation session with the Honorable Layn R. Phillips of Phillips ADR Enterprises, 23 a mediator with extensive experience in resolving securities cases, as well as months of settlement 24 discussions with Judge Phillips' assistance after the mediation was unsuccessful.

25 <sup>1</sup> All capitalized terms not defined herein shall have the same meaning set forth in the Stipulation 26 of Settlement dated April 7, 2023 (Nutanix Action ECF 307-2; Norton Action ECF 117-2) and in 27 Plaintiffs' Memorandum of Points and Authorities in Support of Motion for Final Approval of Class Action Settlement and Approval of Plan of Allocation ("Final Approval Memorandum"), filed herewith.

1 A lodestar cross-check also confirms the reasonableness of the requested fee. In litigating
2 this case, Plaintiffs’ Counsel expended substantial resources – over 16,000 hours in professional time 3 – for a lodestar multiplier of approximately 2.01 of Plaintiffs’ Counsel’s time which falls well within 4 the range of multipliers awarded in the Ninth Circuit.

5 An estimated 154,004 Postcard Notices were provided to potential Class Members in 6 accordance with the Preliminary Approval Order. See Declaration of Ross D. Murray Regarding 7 Notice Dissemination, Publication, and Requests for Exclusion Received to Date (“Murray Decl.”), 8 ¶11, attached as Exhibit D to the Astley Declaration. The Postcard Notice advised potential Class 9 Members that Lead Counsel would apply for an award of attorneys’ fees in an amount not to exceed 10 30% of the Settlement Amount and payment of litigation expenses in an amount not to exceed 11 $750,000. See Murray Decl., Ex. A. The deadline set by the Court to object to the requested 12 attorneys’ fees and expenses has not yet passed, but, to date, no objections have been received.
13 Astley Decl., ¶125.<sup>2</sup> Lead Counsel respectfully submit that the requested fee is fair and reasonable 14 and that it should therefore be granted.

15 Finally, after carefully considering the Court’s admonition during the preliminary approval 16 hearing, Lead Plaintiff California Ironworkers respectfully requests an award of $2,000 (significantly 17 less than the $10,000 amount set forth in the long form Notice<sup>3</sup>) pursuant to the Private Securities 18 Litigation Reform Act of 1995 (“PSLRA”) in connection with its representation of the Class and its 19 significant contribution to the result. 15 U.S.C. §78u-4(a)(4). California Ironworkers believes this is 20 a modest request in light of its significant contribution, which is set forth in the Declaration of John 21 Stonehouse on Behalf of California Ironworkers Field Pension Trust (“California Ironworkers 22 Decl.”), attached as Exhibit A to the Astley Declaration.

26 <sup>2</sup> The deadline for the filing of objections is September 13, 2023. Should any objections be received, Lead Counsel will address them in their reply papers, due on September 27, 2023.

1 II. PROCEDURAL AND FACTUAL BACKGROUND

2 Lead Counsel have invested substantial time and resources in the prosecution of the Actions, 3 including investigating background facts, interviewing witnesses, drafting the complaints, briefing 4 motions to dismiss, conducting discovery, reviewing documents, and working with experts, all in 5 furtherance of, and resulting in, the Settlement now before this Court. Consistent with this District’s
 6 Procedural Guidance for Class Action Settlements (“Northern District Guidelines”), relevant history 7 and facts are set out in Plaintiffs’ Final Approval Memorandum and the Astley Declaration and are 8 not repeated here. See Northern District Guidelines, Final Approval, §2 (“If the plaintiffs choose to 9 file two separate motions, they should not repeat the case history and background facts in both 10 motions. The motion for attorneys’ fees should refer to the history and facts set out in the motion for 11 final approval.”).<sup>4</sup>

12 III. THE REQUESTED FEE IS FAIR AND REASONABLE

13 A. A Reasonable Percentage of the Fund Is the Appropriate Method for 14 Awarding Attorneys’ Fees in Common Fund Cases

15 The Supreme Court has long recognized that “a litigant or a lawyer who recovers a common 16 fund for the benefit of persons other than himself or his client is entitled to a reasonable attorney’s 17 fee from the fund as a whole.” Boeing Co. v. Van Gemert, 444 U.S. 472, 478 (1980).<sup>5</sup> Under the 18 common fund doctrine, “a private plaintiff, or his attorney, whose efforts create, discover, increase 19 or preserve a fund to which others also have a claim is entitled to recover from the fund the costs of 20 his litigation, including attorneys’ fees.” Vincent v. Hughes Air W., Inc., 557 F.2d 759, 769 (9th Cir.
 21 1977); accord In re Nat’l Collegiate Athletic Ass’n Athletic Grant-in-Aid Cap Antitrust Litig., 768 F.
 22 App’x. 651, 653 (9th Cir. 2019). “The use of the percentage-of-the-fund method in common-fund

4 method (In re Bluetooth Headset Prods. Liab. Litig., 654 F.3d 935, 942 (9th Cir. 2011)), the Ninth 5 Circuit has expressly and consistently approved the use of the percentage method in common fund 6 cases. See, e.g., Vizcaino v. Microsoft Corp., 290 F.3d 1043, 1047-48 (9th Cir. 2002); see also In re

13           The PSLRA also contemplates that fees be awarded on a percentage basis, authorizing 14 attorneys’ fees and expenses to counsel that do not exceed “a reasonable percentage of the amount of 15 any damages and prejudgment interest actually paid to the class.” 15 U.S.C. §78u-4(a)(6); see also

21           The rationale for compensating counsel on a percentage basis in common fund cases is 22 sound. “[C]ourts try to . . . [tie] together the interests of class members and class counsel” by 23 “tether[ing] the value of an attorneys’ fees award to the value of the class recovery . . . [t]he more 24 valuable the class recovery, the greater the fees award . . . [a]nd vice versa.” In re HP Inkjet Printer

26 (9th Cir. 2023) (“The touchstone for determining the reasonableness of attorneys’ fees in a class

1 Use of the percentage-of-recovery method is particularly appropriate in common fund cases

4 (Gilliam, J.) (applying percentage of the fund method and lodestar crosscheck). Conversely, the 5 Ninth Circuit has recognized that the lodestar method creates the perverse incentive for counsel to

10 B. The Requested Fee Is Reasonable and Appropriate

11 The requested fee is within the range of similar common fund class action settlements where 12 courts have adjusted the fee above the 25% benchmark based on appropriate factors. See, e.g., 13 Morgan v. Childtime Childcare, Inc., 2020 WL 218515, at *4 (C.D. Cal. Jan. 6, 2020) (adjusting fee 14 award to “just under 33.3% of the total settlement amount”); Jimenez v. O’Reilly Auto. Inc., 2018 15 WL 6137591, at *3 (C.D. Cal. June 18, 2018) (upward departure from the 25% benchmark to a 16 33.33% award was justified because of “complicated nature” of the case); Figueroa v. Allied Bldg.
17 Prods. Corp., 2018 WL 4860034, at *3 (C.D. Cal. Sept. 24, 2018) (awarding 33% fee award in 18 complex class action wage and hour case). In fact, “in most common fund cases, the award exceeds 19 that benchmark.” Omnivision, 559 F. Supp. 2d at 1047-48 (citing In re Activision Sec. Litig., 723 F.
20 Supp. 1373, 1377-78 (N.D. Cal. 1989) (Palel, J.) (surveying securities cases nationwide and noting, 21 “This court’s review of recent reported cases discloses that nearly all common fund awards range 22 around 30% . . . .”); see In re Ikon Off. Sols., Inc., Sec. Litig., 194 F.R.D. 166, 194 (E.D. Pa. 2000) 23 (“The median in class actions is approximately twenty-five percent, but awards of thirty percent are 24 not uncommon in securities class actions.”). Adjustments to the Ninth Circuit benchmark may be 25 made upon consideration of the following factors: “(1) the result achieved; (2) the risk involved in 26 the litigation; (3) the skill required and quality of work by counsel; (4) the contingent nature of the 27 fee; and (5) awards made in similar cases.” Larsen v. Trader Joe’s Co., 2014 WL 3404531, at *9

4           Lead Counsel’s 30% fee request is consistent with percentage fees that courts in this Circuit
 5 have awarded in other complex class actions. See, e.g., In re Pac. Enter. Sec. Litig., 47 F.3d 373,

 16 3404531, at *9 (citing several cases awarding fees of 32% or greater). As discussed below, 17 application of each of the enumerated factors confirms that the requested 30% fee is fair and 18 reasonable.

19                           1.       Lead Counsel Achieved an Exceptional Result for the Class

20           “The first and ‘most critical factor [in determining an attorneys’ fee] is the degree of success 21 obtained.”” Impax, 2022 WL 2789496, at *8 (quoting Hensley v. Eckerhart, 461 U.S. 424, 436 22 (1983)); see Hefler v. Wells Fargo & Co., 2018 WL 6619983, at *13 (N.D. Cal. Dec. 18, 2018), aff’d 23 sub nom. Hefler v. Pekoc, 802 F. App’x 285 (9th Cir. 2020) (Tigar, J.). In fact, clients care most 24 about results and would willingly pay, and are financially better off paying, a larger fee for a great 25 result than a lower fee for a poor outcome. See In re Broiler Chicken Antitrust Litig., 2021 WL 26 5709250, at *3 (N.D. Ill. Dec. 1, 2021) (“Clients generally want to incentivize their counsel to 27 pursue every last settlement dollar.”).

1 Here, against substantial risks, Lead Counsel obtained an exceptional recovery for the Class, 2 both in terms of overall amount ($71 million) and as a percentage of the estimated aggregate 3 damages (15%). This, of course, assumes Plaintiffs' damage estimate prevailed at trial. At every 4 turn Defendants took the position that damages were significantly lower than the $477 million that 5 Plaintiffs' expert estimated, and there existed a significant risk that class-wide aggregate damages
 6 would have been far less. Indeed, aggregate damages could have been lower than the $71 million
 7 recovery, including the risk of no recovery at all. Volkswagen, 2017 WL 1047834, at *2 ("Class
 8 Counsel 'recognize there are always uncertainties in litigation[.]' It is possible that 'a litigation 9 Class would receive less or nothing at all, despite the compelling merit of its claims . . . .")
 10 (alteration in original). Accordingly, the percentage recovery very well could be significantly larger.
 11 Nevertheless, the recovery of 15% of estimated aggregate damages dwarfs the 1.6% median 12 percentage recovery for cases settled with estimated damages of between $400 and $599 million.<sup>6</sup>
 13 And it is many multiples of recoveries in other securities cases in this District. See Vataj v. Johnson, 14 2021 WL 5161927, at *9 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 5, 2021) (Gilliam, J.) (recovery of 2% of estimated 15 damages "appears consistent with the 2-3% average recovery that the parties identified in other
 17 Liab. Litig., 2019 WL 2077847, at *2 n.2 (N.D. Cal. May 10, 2019) (noting that "the median 18 settlement recovery from 2009 to 2017 was only five percent of damages in securities class 19 actions"). The outstanding result obtained for the Class strongly supports Lead Counsel's fee 20 request and merits an appropriate fee that encourages counsel to seek excellent results.

21 2. The Litigation Was Uncertain and Highly Complex

22 The "complexity of the issues and the risks" undertaken are also important factors in 23 determining a fee award. Pac. Enters., 47 F.3d at 379; see also Vizcaino, 290 F.3d at 1048 ("Risk is 24 a relevant circumstance."). "[I]n general, securities actions are highly complex and . . . securities

26 <sup>6</sup> See Janeen McIntosh, Svetlana Starykh, and Edward Flores, Recent Trends in Securities Class 27 Action Litigation: 2022 Full-Year Review at 17, Fig. 18 (NERA Jan. 24, 2023) (median ratio of settlements to investor losses was 1.6% for settlements of actions with investor losses between $400 and $599 million from December 2011 to December 2022), attached as Exhibit E to the Astley Decl.

1 class litigation is notably difficult and notoriously uncertain.” Hefler, 2018 WL 6619983, at *13; 2 Jiangchen v. Rentech, Inc., 2019 WL 5173771, at *6 (C.D. Cal. Oct. 10, 2019) (“In general, 3 securities fraud class actions are complex cases that are time-consuming and difficult to prove.”).
4 Indeed, “[t]o be successful, a securities class-action plaintiff must thread the eye of a needle made 5 smaller and smaller over the years by judicial decree and congressional action.” Alaska Elec.
6 Pension Fund v. Flowserve Corp., 572 F.3d 221, 235 (5th Cir. 2009). For these reasons, in 7 securities class actions, fee awards often exceed the 25% benchmark recognized in the Ninth Circuit.
8 Omnivision, 559 F. Supp. 2d at 1047.

9       Lead Counsel assumed significant risk at every procedural step of the litigation. See Astley 10 Decl., ¶¶80-92. Defendants sought outright dismissal of the Actions several times, as their motion to 11 dismiss the Nutanix FAC was granted with leave to amend, the motion to dismiss the Nutanix SAC
12 was denied in part, and their later motion to dismiss the Norton Complaint was denied. Astley Decl., 13 ¶¶10, 11 and 62, respectively. Defendants also filed a motion for judgment on the pleadings (which 14 was withdrawn), id., ¶67, and a motion for reconsideration of the Court’s order deciding Defendants’ 15 second motion to dismiss. Finally, Defendants yet again urged the Court to dismiss the case by 16 filing an omnibus motion to dismiss both the Nutanix TAC and the Norton RFAC. Nutanix Action 17 ECF 292; Norton Action ECF 105. Notably, Defendants argued that the documents produced in 18 discovery did not support the theory of the case that survived the motion to dismiss. Id. at 10-14.
19 While Plaintiffs disagreed, Defendants apparently believed enough in the argument to take a second 20 shot at complete dismissal of the case. Their latest motion to dismiss was fully briefed and pending 21 when the Actions settled. See Astley Decl., ¶¶73, 74. That Plaintiffs were able to achieve a 22 substantial settlement at the time Defendants had a dispositive motion pending, further supports both 23 the riskiness of the litigation and the remarkable result achieved.

24       At trial, the Actions would have turned largely on expert testimony concerning highly 25 technical economic issues, including loss causation and the credibility of fact witnesses – many of 26 whom remained employed by Nutanix, retained relationships with one or more Defendants, or were 27 represented by Defendants’ counsel. Defendants needed only to defeat one element of Plaintiffs’

1 claims to prevail, and there was a significant risk the jury would agree with Defendants’ experts and 2 find no liability, no damages, or award far less than Plaintiffs sought to recover. See, e.g., Vinh
3 Nguyen v. Radiant Pharms. Corp., 2014 WL 1802293, at *2 (C.D. Cal. May 6, 2014) (noting, in 4 securities class action, that “[p]roving and calculating damages required a complex analysis, 5 requiring the jury to parse divergent positions of expert witnesses in a complex area of the law. The 6 outcome of that analysis is inherently difficult to predict and risky”). Throughout the duration of the 7 litigation, Defendants vigorously disputed (and continue to dispute) the falsity of their alleged 8 misstatements and their scienter. See In re Immune Response Sec. Litig., 497 F. Supp. 2d 1166, 1172 9 (S.D. Cal. 2007) (“[T]he issue[] of scienter . . . [is] complex and difficult to establish at trial.”). And 10 even if Plaintiffs survived summary judgment and obtained a favorable verdict at trial, they would 11 still have faced the risk of partial or complete reversal in post-trial proceedings. See, e.g., In re
12 Apollo Grp., Inc. Sec. Litig., 2008 WL 3072731 (D. Ariz. Aug. 4, 2008), rev’d on other grounds, 13 2010 WL 5927988 (9th Cir. June 23, 2010) (granting motion for a judgment as a matter of law, 14 overturning $277 million verdict in favor of plaintiffs based on insufficient evidence of loss 15 causation). And any recovery absent the Settlement ““would come years in the future and at far 16 greater expense to the . . . Class.”” Id. The $71 million Settlement, achieved in the face of these 17 significant risks, amply supports the requested 30% fee award.

18 3. The Skill Required and Quality of Work

19 The quality of Lead Counsel’s representation further supports the reasonableness of the 20 requested fee. Clients retain Lead Counsel to benefit from their experience and resources in order to 21 obtain the largest possible recovery for the class. Lead Counsel are nationally recognized leaders in 22 securities class actions and complex litigation. See Astley Decl., ¶¶117-118; RGRD Decl., Ex. E; 23 L&K Decl., Ex. H. Both firms have a track record of settling cases at a premium, and Robbins 24 Geller has successfully tried several securities cases. Lead Counsel successfully litigated the 25 Actions and achieved an exceptional recovery. Lead Counsel’s skill and experience supports the 26 requested fee award.

27

1 The standing of opposing counsel should also be weighed because such standing reflects the 2 challenge faced by Lead Counsel. See, e.g., Wing v. Asarco Inc., 114 F.3d 986, 989 (9th Cir. 1997).
3 Defendants chose well-known and highly capable representation by a team of experienced attorneys 4 from Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, a well-regarded law firm. That firm spared no effort or 5 expense on behalf of Defendants in their zealous defense. Lead Counsel’s ability to obtain a 6 favorable result for the Class while litigating against this formidable defense firm and its well-7 financed clients further evidences the quality of Lead Counsel’s work and weighs in favor of 8 awarding the requested fee.

9 4. The Contingent Nature of the Fee and the Financial Burden
10 Carried by Lead Counsel

11 “It is an established practice to reward attorneys who assume representation on a contingent 12 basis with an enhanced fee to compensate them for the risk that they might be paid nothing at all.”
13 Volkswagen, 2017 WL 1047834, at *3; see In re Washington Pub. Power Supply Sys. Sec. Litig., 19 14 F.3d 1291, 1299 (9th Cir. 1994) (same); Larsen, 2014 WL 3404531, at *9 (same). This “practice 15 encourages the legal profession to assume such a risk and promotes competent representation for 16 plaintiffs who could not otherwise hire an attorney.” Id. “This incentive is especially important in 17 securities cases.” Stanger v. China Elec. Motor, Inc., 812 F.3d 734, 741 (9th Cir. 2016).

18 “The risk of no recovery in complex cases of this sort is not merely hypothetical.” Savani v.
19 URS Pro. Sols. LLC, 2014 WL 172503, at *5 (D.S.C. Jan. 15, 2014). Not only was the Nutanix
20 Action initially dismissed, there have been many class actions in which counsel for the plaintiffs 21 took on the risk of pursuing claims on a contingency basis, expended thousands of hours and dollars, 22 yet received no remuneration whatsoever despite their diligence and expertise. Supra, §III.B.2. For 23 example, in In re Oracle Corp. Sec. Litig., 2009 WL 1709050 (N.D. Cal. June 19, 2009) (Illston, J.), 24 aff’d, 627 F.3d 376 (9th Cir. 2010), a case that Robbins Geller prosecuted, the court granted 25 summary judgment to defendants after eight years of litigation, during which plaintiff’s counsel 26 incurred over $7 million in out-of-pocket expenses and worked over 100,000 hours, representing a 27 lodestar of approximately $40 million (in 2010 dollars). In another Ninth Circuit PSLRA case, after 28 a lengthy trial involving securities claims against Tesla, the jury reached a verdict in defendants’

1 favor – despite the Court previously granting summary judgment on certain elements in the 2 plaintiff’s favor, evincing the strength of the claims. See In re Tesla, Inc. Sec. Litig., 2022 WL
3 1497559 (N.D. Cal. Apr. 1, 2022) (Chen, J.), and Tesla, No. 3:18-cv-04865-EMC, ECF 671 (N.D.
4 Cal. Feb. 3, 2023); see also In re JDS Uniphase Corp. Sec. Litig., 2007 WL 4788556 (N.D. Cal.
5 Nov. 27, 2007) (Wilken, J.) (holding similarly).

6 Here, Plaintiffs’ Counsel have received no compensation during the course of the Actions
7 and invested over 16,000 hours for a total lodestar of $10,581,445.25 and Lead Counsel incurred
8 substantial expenses in prosecuting this case to a successful resolution. Additional (uncompensated) 9 work in connection with the Settlement and claims administration already has been undertaken and 10 will be required going forward. Any fee award has always been contingent on the result achieved 11 and on this Court’s discretion. Indeed, the only certainty was that there would be no fee without a 12 successful result. Lead Counsel committed significant resources of both time and money to 13 vigorously prosecute these Actions and successfully brought them to a highly favorable conclusion
14 for the Class’s benefit. See generally Astley Decl. The contingent nature of Lead Counsel’s 15 representation thus further supports approval of the requested fee. See Plains All Am., 2022 WL 16 4453864, at *3 (in awarding 33% fee on $165 million settlement, court found “the substantial risks
17 borne by Class Counsel in pursuing this class action for seven years with no guarantee of recovering 18 fees or litigation expenses also militates in favor of finding the requested fee award reasonable”).

19 5. Awards Made in Similar Cases Support the Fee Request

20 Lead Counsel’s fee request is also supported by awards made in similar cases. As discussed 21 in §III.B, the 30% fee request is within the range of fee percentages awarded in comparable 22 settlements. As further addressed in §III.B.7., the resulting multiplier of 2.01 on Plaintiffs’ 23 Counsel’s lodestar is also within the range of lodestar multipliers applied in cases of this nature.

24 6. The Class’s Reaction to Date Supports the Fee Request

25 Courts within the Ninth Circuit also consider the reaction of the class when deciding whether 26 to award the requested fee. See, e.g., Volkswagen, 2017 WL 1047834, at *4 (considering that 27 “[o]nly four Class Members out of a class of approximately 475,000 objected to the proposed fee

1 award” to be “a strong, positive response from the class, supporting Class Counsel’s requested
 2 fees”); In re Washington Mut., Inc. Sec. Litig., 2011 WL 8190466, at *2 (W.D. Wash. Nov. 4, 2011)
 3 (noting, in approving fee request, that “no substantive objections to the amount of fees and expenses
 4 requested were filed”). While a certain number of objections are to be expected in a large class 5 action such as this, “the absence of a large number of objections to a proposed class action 6 settlement raises a strong presumption that the terms of a proposed class settlement action are 7 favorable to the class members.” Nat’l Rural Telecomms. Coop. v. DIRECTV, Inc., 221 F.R.D. 523, 8 529 (C.D. Cal. 2004); Hefler, 2018 WL 6619983, at *15 (“As with the Settlement itself, the lack of 9 objections from institutional investors ‘who presumably had the means, the motive, and the 10 sophistication to raise objections’ [to the attorneys’ fee] weighs in favor of approval.”).

11 Class Members were informed in the Postcard Notice and Notice that Lead Counsel would 12 move the Court for an award of attorneys’ fees in an amount not to exceed 30% of the Settlement 13 Amount and for payment of litigation expenses not to exceed $750,000. Class Members were also 14 advised of their right to object to the fee and expense request, and that such objections are to be filed 15 with the Court no later than September 13, 2023. While this deadline has not yet passed, to date, not 16 a single objection has been received. Should any objections be received, Lead Counsel will address 17 them in their reply papers. Finally, Plaintiffs have approved the percentage sought here. See 18 California Ironworkers Decl., ¶¶7-8; Declaration of Ornel N. Cotera, ¶¶6-7; Declaration of John P.
 19 Norton, on Behalf of the Norton Family Living Trust UAD 11/15/2002, ¶¶6-7, attached as Exhibits 20 A, B and C, respectively, to the Astley Declaration. Plaintiffs’ approval supports granting the 21 requested fee. See Hatamian v. Advanced Micro Devices, Inc., 2018 WL 8950656, at *2 (N.D. Cal.
 22 Mar. 2, 2018) (Gonzalez Rogers, J.) (approving fee where request “reviewed and approved as fair 23 and reasonable by Class Representatives, sophisticated institutional investors”).

24 7. A Lodestar Crosscheck Confirms that the Requested Fee Is 25 Reasonable

26 To assess the reasonableness of a fee awarded under the percentage-of-the-fund method, 27 courts may (but are not required to) cross check the proposed award against counsel’s lodestar.
 28 Farrell v. Bank of Am. Corp., N.A., 827 F. App’x 628, 630 (9th Cir. 2020) (refusing to mandate “a

1 [cross-check] requirement”), cert. denied sub nom. Threatt v. Farrell, __U.S.__, 142 S. Ct. 71
 2 (2021); In re Amgen Inc. Sec. Litig., 2016 WL 10571773, at *9 (C.D. Cal. Oct. 25, 2016) (noting that 3 “analysis of the lodestar is not required for an award of attorneys’ fees in the Ninth Circuit”). When 4 the lodestar is used as a cross check, “the focus is not on the ‘necessity and reasonableness of every 5 hour’ of the lodestar, but on the broader question of whether the fee award appropriately reflects the 6 degree of time and effort expended by the attorneys.” In re Tyco Int’l, Ltd. Multidistrict Litig., 535
 7 F. Supp. 2d 249, 270 (D.N.H. 2007); accord Volkswagen, 2017 WL 1047834, at *5 n.5 (overruling 8 objection that “the information provided in support of Class Counsel’s lodestar amount as 9 inadequate” because “it is well established that ‘[t]he lodestar cross-check calculation need entail 10 neither mathematical precision nor bean counting . . . [courts] may rely on summaries submitted by 11 the attorneys and need not review actual billing records”) (alterations and ellipsis in original); 12 Hefler, 2018 WL 6619983, at *14 (confirming that ““trial courts need not, and indeed should not, 13 become green-eyeshade accountants”” in context of lodestar cross check, and noting that “the Court 14 seeks to ‘do rough justice, not to achieve auditing perfection””).

15 “[C]ourts ‘calculate[] the fee award by multiplying the number of hours reasonably spent by 16 a reasonable hourly rate and then enhancing that figure, if necessary, to account for the risks 17 associated with the representation.’” Rentech, 2019 WL 5173771, at *10 (second alteration in 18 original) (quoting Paul, Johnson, Alston & Hunt v. Graulty, 886 F.2d 268, 272 (9th Cir. 1989)). In 19 this case, the lodestar method demonstrates the reasonableness of the requested fee. As detailed here 20 and in the accompanying RGRD, L&K and Klausner Declarations,<sup>7</sup> over 16,000 hours of attorney 21 and paraprofessional time were expended prosecuting the Actions for the benefit of the Class. The 22 hours spent to obtain the results are reasonable as detailed in the Astley Declaration.<sup>8</sup>

25 <sup>7</sup> Klausner, Kaufman, Jensen & Levinson is special counsel to Plaintiff City of Miami Fire 26 Fighters’ and Police Officers’ Retirement Trust. Klausner Decl., ¶2.

27 <sup>8</sup> Pursuant to the Northern District Guidelines, Final Approval §2, Lead Counsel have included the 28 number of hours spent on various categories of activities related to the Actions by each biller and the hourly billing rates in the RGRD Decl. (Exs. A and B) and L&K Decl. (Exs. A and B).

1           Lead Counsel’s hourly rates, too, are reasonable. In fact, both Robbins Geller’s and Levi &
2           Korsinsky’s rates have recent judicial approval by Judge Gilliam. See Fleming, 2022 WL 2789496, 3           at *9 (approving hourly rates of $760 to $1,325 for partners, $895 to $1,150 for counsel, and $175 to 4           $520 for associates, and finding Robbins Geller’s “billing rates in line with prevailing rates in this 5           district for personnel of comparable experience, skill, and reputation”); In re Aqua Metals, Inc. Sec.
6           Litig., 2022 WL 612804, at *8 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 2, 2022) (Gilliam, J.) (approving Levi & Korsinsky’s
7           hourly rates) (“The Court finds that the billing rates used by Class Counsel to calculate the lodestar 8           are in line with prevailing rates in this district for personnel of comparable experience, skill, and 9           reputation.”). Other courts in this District have approved similar hourly rates. See In re Lyft Inc.
10          Sec. Litig., 2023 WL 5068504, at *12 (N.D. Cal. Aug. 7, 2023) (Gilliam, J.) (approving “Lead 11          Counsel’s hourly rates rang[ing] from $900 to $1,200 for partners, $375 to $605 for associates, and 12          $250 to $300 for paralegals . . . .”); Hefler, 2018 WL 6619983, at *14 (finding rates ranging from 13          $650 to $1,250 for partners or senior counsel and from $400 to $650 for associates as reasonable); 14          Volkswagen, 2017 WL 1047834, at *5 (finding rates ranging from $275 to $1,600 for partners, $150 15          to $790 for associates, and $80 to $490 for paralegals reasonable). Plaintiffs’ Counsel’s lodestar, 16          derived by multiplying the hours spent on the Actions by each attorney and litigation professional by 17          their current hourly rates, is $10,581,445.25.

18           The requested fee of 30% represents a multiplier of 2.01 on Plaintiffs’ Counsel’s lodestar, 19          which is comfortably within the range of lodestar multipliers courts in this Circuit regularly approve.
20          See, e.g., Capacitors Antitrust, 2017 WL 9613950, at *6 (noting, “[i]n the Ninth Circuit, a lodestar 21          multiplier of around 4 times has frequently been awarded in common fund cases”); Hefler, 2018 WL 22          6619983, at *14 (awarding fee representing a 3.22 multiplier); In re Facebook Biometric Info. Priv.
23          Litig., 522 F. Supp. 3d 617, 633 (N.D. Cal. 2021) (Donato, J.) (awarding fee in $650 million 24          common fund settlement representing 4.71 multiplier), aff’d, 2022 WL 822923 (9th Cir. Mar. 17, 25          2022); In re Twitter Inc. Sec. Litig., 2022 WL 17248115, at *2 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 21, 2022) (Tigar, J.) 26          (awarding fee representing 4.14 multiplier); In re Nat’l Collegiate Athletic Ass’n Athletic Grant-in- 27          Aid Cap Antitrust Litig., 2017 WL 6040065, at *7-*9 (N.D. Cal. Dec. 6, 2017) (Wilken, J.)

1 (awarding fee representing a 3.66 multiplier), aff'd, 768 F. App'x 651 (9th Cir. 2019); see generally
 2 Vizcaino, 290 F.3d at 1050-52, 1051 n.6 (affirming 3.65 multiplier on appeal and finding that 3 multipliers ranged as high as 19.6, with the most common range from 1.0 to 4.0); Lidoderm, 2018 4 WL 4620695, at *3 (finding multipliers range from 1.0 to 4.0 in the vast majority of cases, citing 5 Vizcaino, 290 F.3d at 1052-54); In re Verifone Holdings, Inc. Sec. Litig., 2014 WL 12646027, at *2 6 (N.D. Cal. Feb. 18, 2014) (Chen, J.) (noting “over 80% of multipliers fall between 1.0 and 4.0” and 7 awarding fee where multiplier was 4.3). As more fully explained in the Astley Declaration, given 8 the risk undertaken by Lead Counsel and the result achieved for the Class, a multiplier of 2.01 is 9 reasonable here.

10 Each of the relevant factors supports the award of attorneys’ fees of 30% of the Settlement 11 Amount. Accordingly, this fee request is reasonable and should be approved.

12 IV. LEAD COUNSEL’S EXPENSES ARE REASONABLE AND SHOULD BE 13 APPROVED

14 Lead Counsel further requests an award in the amount of $638,213.52 from the common fund
 15 for litigation expenses incurred in prosecuting and resolving the Actions on behalf of the Class.<sup>9</sup> 16 Vincent v. Reser, 2013 WL 621865, at *5 (N.D. Cal. Feb. 19, 2013) (“Attorneys who create a 17 common fund are entitled to the reimbursement of expenses they advanced for the benefit of the 18 class.”). The amount sought, as detailed in counsel’s declarations, is less than the $750,000 amount 19 published in the Postcard Notice and Notice, to which no Class Member has objected to date. See 20 RGRD Decl., Ex. C; L&K Decl., Ex. C; Murray Decl., Exs. A and B, Notice at ¶5. The expenses 21 sought are also of the type that are routinely charged to hourly paying clients and, therefore, are 22

23 _____
 24 <sup>9</sup> These include expenses associated with, among other things, experts, service of process, online 25 legal and factual research, travel, and mediation. A large component of Lead Counsel’s expenses is 26 for the costs of experts who were qualified and necessary to litigate these Actions. Courts in this 27 Circuit regularly approve reimbursements for expert fees. See, e.g., Franco v. Ruiz Food Prods., 28 Inc., 2012 WL 5941801, at *22 (E.D. Cal. Nov. 27, 2012) (noting expert fees are among the “types of fees . . . routinely reimbursed”); Ontiveros v. Zamora, 303 F.R.D. 356, 375 (E.D. Cal. 2014) (granting expense reimbursement to class counsel and noting “itemized costs relating to . . . expert fees” were “reasonable litigation expenses”).

1 properly paid out of the common fund. Hefler, 2018 WL 6619983, at *16 (“An attorney is entitled 2 to ‘recover as part of the award of attorney’s fees those out-of-pocket expenses that would normally 3 be charged to a fee paying client.”); Vincent, 2013 WL 621865, at *5 (granting award of expenses 4 for “‘three experts and the mediator, photocopying and mailing expenses, travel expenses, and other 5 reasonable litigation related expenses’”); see also Redwen v. Sino Clean Energy, Inc., 2013 WL
 6 12303367, at *9-*10 (C.D. Cal. July 9, 2013); Barbosa v. Cargill Meat Sols. Corp., 297 F.R.D. 431, 7 454 (E.D. Cal. 2013).

9 V. CLASS REPRESENTATIVE CALIFORNIA IRONWORKERS’ REQUEST
 10 FOR AN AWARD PURSUANT TO 15 U.S.C. §78u-4(a)(4) IS 11 REASONABLE

12 Under the PSLRA, a class representative may seek an award of reasonable costs and 13 expenses directly relating to the representation of the class. See 15 U.S.C. §78u-4(a)(4); see also 14 Staton v. Boeing Co., 327 F.3d 938, 977 (9th Cir. 2003) (holding that named plaintiffs are eligible 15 for “reasonable” payments as part of a class action settlement). Factors to consider include, “‘the 16 actions the plaintiff has taken to protect the interests of the class, the degree to which the class has 17 benefitted from those actions, . . . the amount of time and effort the plaintiff expended in pursuing 18 the litigation’” among others. Id. (ellipse in original); see William B. Rubenstein, On Plaintiff
 19 “Incentive” Payments, Class Action Attorney Fee Digest (Vol. 1, Apr. 2007), 95-97 (same), attached
 20 to the Astley Declaration as Exhibit F. As explained by Professor Rubenstein, “[t]he general theory 21 behind incentive awards is that the monitoring, litigating, and gate-keeping functions serve important 22 public goals. Incentive awards encourage plaintiffs to step forward and provide these public goods.”
 23 Id. Such awards “can be justified by the fact that the representative is not similarly situated to other 24 class members: she did something they did not and is rightly paid for stepping forward and working 25 to safeguard the class’s interests.” Id.

26 At the May 17, 2023 hearing for Plaintiffs’ motion for preliminary approval, the Court 27 questioned Plaintiffs’ anticipated requests for awards pursuant to 15 U.S.C. §78u-4(a)(4), stating that 28 “[t]he Court may not be looking favorably upon that particular request.” ECF 124 at 6:24-25. Lead

1 Plaintiff California Ironworkers carefully considered the Court’s statement, and appreciating the 2 Court’s discretion whether to approve such a request, respectfully seeks an award of $2,000 (much 3 less than the $10,000 amount identified in the Notice), in connection with its representation of the 4 Class, as detailed in the California Ironworkers Decl.

5 The Northern District Guidelines state that “[a]ll requests for service awards must be 6 supported by evidence of the value provided by the proposed awardees, the risks they undertook in 7 participating, the time they spent on the litigation, and any other justifications for the awards.”<sup>10</sup>
8 Consistent with those Guidelines, Lead Plaintiff California Ironworkers has submitted a declaration 9 herewith setting forth the time and effort it spent monitoring the Nutanix Action and directing Lead 10 Counsel, including discussing litigation strategy, collecting and reviewing materials for discovery, 11 and discussing settlement negotiations and case filings with Lead Counsel, among other things. See 12 California Ironworkers Decl., ¶¶4-5. Moreover, California Ironworkers undertook risks in pursuing 13 these claims. See, e.g., Wehlage v. Evergreen at Arvin LLC, 2012 WL 4755371, at *5 (N.D. Cal.
14 Oct. 4, 2012) (finding award justified for plaintiffs “lending their names to this case, and thus 15 subjecting themselves to public attention”); In re CenturyLink Sales Pracs. & Sec. Litig., 2020 WL 16 7133805, at *13 (D. Minn. Dec. 4, 2020) (award justified because “[c]lass [r]epresentatives 17 participated and willingly took on the responsibility of prosecuting the case and publicly lending 18 their names to this lawsuit, opening themselves up to scrutiny and attention from both the public and 19 media”).

20 California Ironworkers requests an award of $2,000 pursuant to 15 U.S.C. §78u-4(a)(4), in 21 connection with its representation of the Class. It was actively involved in the action after being 22 appointed Lead Plaintiff, and under such circumstances, courts have approved as reasonable awards
23 for class representatives that are higher than those requested here. See Hatamian, 2018 WL 24 8950656, at *4 (Gonzalez Rogers, J.) (granting PSLRA service award of $14,875.00 to KBC for 25 approximately 106 hours devoted to the litigation); Buccellato v. AT&T Operations, Inc., 2011 WL 12 $10,422.30 and noting that “the requested reimbursement is consistent with payments in similar 13 securities cases”); In re Xcel Energy, Inc., Sec., Derivative, & “ERISA” Litig., 364 F. Supp. 2d 980, 14 1000 (D. Minn. 2005) (awarding $100,000 to lead plaintiffs because of “the important policy role 15 [lead plaintiffs] play in the enforcement of the federal securities laws on behalf of persons other than 16 themselves”).

17 VI. CONCLUSION

18 Lead Counsel obtained an exceptional result for the Class in the Nutanix and Norton Actions.
19 Based on the foregoing, Plaintiffs and Lead Counsel respectfully request that the Court: (i) award 20 Lead Counsel attorneys’ fees of 30% of the Settlement Amount and payment of $638,213.52 in 21 litigation expenses, plus interest on both amounts at the same rate as earned by the Settlement Fund, 22 and (ii) an award to Class Representative California Ironworkers of $2,000, as permitted by the 23 PSLRA.

25 <sup>11</sup> Courts in this district have often used $5,000 as the “presumptively reasonable” figure, they have 26 done so since 2009 (with no adjustment). See Jacobs v. California State Auto. Ass’n Inter-Ins.
27 Bureau, 2009 WL 3562871, at *5 (N.D. Cal. Oct. 27, 2009) (calling $5,000 “presumptively reasonable”); Chen v. Chase Bank USA, N.A., 2020 WL 3432644, at *12 (N.D. Cal. June 23, 2020)
